INTRODUCTION AND GENERAL INDEX

HILL DIRECTORY COMPANY, publishers of Southeastern Directories, presents to subscribers and the general public, this, the latest edition of the Smithfield and Selma City Directory. (In all, the HILL DIRECTORY COMPANY and its affiliated companies publish more than 1,300 city and suburban Directories).

Confidence in the growth of Smithfield and Selma's industry, population and wealth, and in the advancement of their civic and social activities, will be maintained as sections of this Directory are consulted, for the City Directory is a mirror truly reflecting Smithfield and Selma to the world.

The enviable position occupied by HILL'S Directories in the estimation of the public, has been established by rendering the best in Directory service. With an unrivaled organization, and having had the courteous and hearty cooperation of the business and professional people and residents, the publishers feel that the result of their labors will meet with the approval of every user, and that the Smithfield and Selma City Directory will fulfill its mission as a source of authentic information pertaining to the cities.

Four Major Departments

The four major departments are arranged in the following order:

I. THE BUYERS' GUIDE constitutes the first major department of the Directory, printed on yellow paper. In the first section of this department, grouped under appropriate headings, are included the advertisements and business cards of firms and individuals desiring to make a complete presentation of their products or services. Following this is the Classified Business Section, which embraces a list of the names and addresses of all business and professional concerns of the cities, arranged in alphabetical order under appropriate headings-a catalog of all the activities of the cities. The Buyers' Guide represents reference advertising at its best, and merits the attention of all buyers and sellers seeking sources of supply or markets for goods. In busy and sellers seeking sources of supply or markets for goods. In busy and diversified cities like Smithfield and Selma, the necessity of having this kind of information up-to-date and always immediately available, is obvious. The City Directory is the common intermediary between buyer and seller, and plays an important role in the daily activities of the commercial, industrial and professional world.

II. THE ALPHABETICAL LIST OF NAMES of residents, business and professional concerns is the second major department, printed on white paper. This Directory aims to show the name, marital status, occupation and address of each adult resident of Smithfield and Selma, and the name, official personnel, nature and address of each firm and corporation in the cities. A special feature of this section is the listing of telephone numbers.

III. THE DIRECTORY OF HOUSEHOLDERS, INCLUDING STREET AND AVENUE GUIDE, is the third major department, printed on green paper. In this section, the numbered streets are arranged in numerical order, followed by the named streets in alphabetical order; the numbers of the residences and business concerns are arranged in numerical order under the name of each street, and the names of the householders and concerns are placed opposite the numbers. The names of the intersecting streets appear at their respective crossing points on each street. Special features of this section are the designation of owner-occupied homes, the listing of telephone numbers, new householder symbols and Zip Codes.

IV. THE NUMERICAL TELEPHONE DIRECTORY is the fourth major department, printed on blue paper.

This publication also contains a Johnson County Rural Residents Directory printed on white paper immediately following the Numerical Telephone Directory.

Publicity

The Directory reflects the achievements and ambitions of the cities, depicting in unbiased terms what they have to offer as a place of residence, as a business location, as a manufacturing site, and as an educational center. The publishers have placed copies of this issue of the Directory in Directory Libraries, where they are readily available for free public reference, and service as perpetual and reliable advertisements of Smithfield and Selma.

The Smithfield-Selma Out-Of-Town City Directory Library

Through the courtesy of the publishers of the Smithfield and Selma City Directory, a Directory Library is maintained in the offices of the Greater Smithfield-Selma Area Chamber Of Commerce, Inc., for free reference by the general public. This is one of many Directory Libraries installed in cities and towns throughout the United States and Canada through the courtesy of your publisher.

The publishers appreciatively acknowledge the recognition by those progressive business and professional people who have demonstrated their confidence in the City Directory as an advertising medium, with assurance that it will bring a commensurate return.

Several improvements have been made in the Town Commons Park along the Neuse River. Picnic areas, a gazebo, nature trail, new signs and a boat ramp have been added. A new 120-bed full service nursing home in Smithfield is in operation.

General Review

Oldest, largest and busiest of Johnston's ten towns, Smithfield is the county seat with an estimated 7,800 population. In 1890, it was only 545. Once it was a river town, and the Neuse still flows slowly along the west edge of its business section, but its commercial importance now is the potential it has as a source of water. Smithfield's water facilities are adequate for an anticipated growth of 20 years.

Downtown Smithfield spreads east of the courthouse lawn. Tobacco is still a big thing in the life of the average Smithfield citizen. When the six auction warehouses sell some 41,000,000 pounds, they turn loose $36 million, and a good part of it goes to Smithfield—either directly into the pockets of farmers living in town, or indirectly via farm trade.

Tobacco is, however, an old story to Smithfield. In 1770, the legislature established a public "Inspection of Tobacco" in Johnston at the ferry on the lands of John Smith. Here, tobacco was inspected and put in stamped hogsheads. It was floated down to New Bern in flatboats. Consequently, Smithfield is the oldest tobacco market in North Carolina still in business, allowing, of course, for interims of inactivity.

Johnston County Courthouse
Located on Market Street in Smithfield

The modern auction market opened in 1898, via a warehouse operated by Skinner and Barham.

The redrying houses, also operating seasonally, provide one of the largest sources of employment in the county, aside from agricultural pursuits.

The cotton market, though overshadowed, is one of the largest in the state, with three gins and facilities for storing 18,000 bales. There is a large livestock market.

But industrial additions such as Burlington Industries, the Jerold-Rayne Corporation, Fieldcrest Mills, Carolina Packers, GTE Sylvania, Shallco, Inc., AMS, Inc., and others, are broadening the base of the town's economy, as well as providing a good balance between agricultural and industrial pursuits.

Smithfield's strategic location at the intersection of the main North-South Routes (I-95 and U.S. 301), and East-West (U.S. 70), plus the Seaboard Coast Line Railroad, and the Neuse River, make it an ideal location.

Smithfield's business and civic leaders, as the result of a tour of several states viewing community improvement ideas, with full cooperation of the community level, unfolded "The Smithfield Plan". Through coordination of community and civic efforts, many changes have taken place. These include sidewalk canopies, remodeled businesses, color styling, off-street parking, new store fronts, landscaping-more than 25 projects completed. Smithfield now has a wide-awake, on-the-move look. It has established itself as a progressive community.

In all of its long career, and through every turn in business, the town has never suffered a bank failure. It is one of the financial centers of North Carolina, through the presence of main offices of the First Citizens Bank & Trust Company.

The town was founded on land which John Smith, the first settler, donated. He had moved in from Virginia and obtained a license to operate a tavern at the site in 1765. Later he moved to Tennessee, where he died.

Smithfield's Main Street

Smithfield was chartered in 1777, and must have had some facilities and prestige during the Revolution. The General Assembly was to have convened in New Bern in April, 1779, but a smallpox epidemic forced them to meet elsewhere, and they chose Smithfield.

It was at this session that the representatives made the first attempt to halt the nomadic wandering which had the assembly meeting first in one place and then another. A resolution was introduced naming a commission to "view and fix upon some place in each of the counties of Johnston, Wake and Chatham for holding the General Assembly.”

Smithfield Post Office-moved from old to this new, modern facility in 1968.

Kiddie Park-Project under "The Smithfield Plan," sponsored by the Smithfield Jaycee Club.

Basketball and Tennis Courts at Bingham Recreation Park

Nothing came of this, and the resolution may not even have passed, for the Senate Journal of that session is lost.

However, when a capital site finally was picked, Smithfield was in the running. We frequently hear the town lost by only one vote, but the statement is always prefixed by the warning that it is only a legend.

Also, according to legend, a Smithfield man cast the deciding vote against location of the Southern Railway, fearing that the smoke and noise would be injurious to the quiet of the village. It later obtained the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, which has since merged with Seaboard to become Seaboard Coast Line Railroad.

Beyond the commercial center lies the residential sections, mostly composed of comfortable but moderate homes.

They are built along old tree-lined streets, and even though close to town, have an air of leisure and well-being. Smithfield, for all its concern over the replacement of farm labor and the need for new enterprises, is a town of quiet poise. It has over its 200 years gradually equipped itself adequately.

As the result of combined community efforts, necessary funds for a new Johnston County-Smithfield Library were raised. Now, a new $500,000 library is in operation.

The hospital has been enlarged and renovated, with all modern conveniences being included in addition to increasing the number of beds to 200, including a new $1,000,000 Mental Health Center.

The civic life is well balanced by organizations-civic, fraternal, cultural, literary, dramatic and professional. It has the city-county library, and also is headquarters for a seven-branch county library system with bookmobile. A Historical Society is busy compiling a county history. There are 55 churches, and 5 recreation parks operated by a full-time city recreation department.

Smithfield's growth in size and responsibility has not robbed it of a social life which is friendly and neighborly.

Community Attitude

Business and professional leaders and the people of Selma and Johnston County are vitally interested in the quality of life of the area has to offer its citizens. Thus, there is expanding attention to planning and to the environment.

City, County and State governments have demonstrated a wholesome, honest and cooperative attitude toward old and new industry and business organizations. New industries that have come to the town and area in the past few years have found a splendid community attitude. The community has several desirable sites available for industry and will meet reasonable requirements to serve new industry.

Approximately 500 high school graduates enter the labor force annually. Selma is served by the Seaboard Coast Line Railroad, Southern Railway, and by 6 Trucking Lines. Raleigh-Durham Airport, one of the South's leading, is only 40 miles away. Valuations and tax rates

The Chamber Of Commerce, with the cooperation of town government and civic clubs, has started a concerted effort to get downtown business organizations to improve their properties, both inside and out. This is, of course, a long range program; however, it is being met with enthusiasm.

COURTHOUSE ONCE BUILT IN MIDDLE OF SECOND AND MARKET STREETS

In its Harvest Edition of August 1961, the Herald republished an earlier historical article captioned "Johnston County Has Had Four Courthouse Locations." Actually, Johnston has had five courthouse locations in addition to private homes in which court was held while courthouses were being built. The Johnston County Courthouse once stood in the intersection of Smithfield's Second and Market streets.

IT would seem that most Johnstonians would know the first courthouse was located at Walnut Creek, some six or seven miles southeast of Goldsboro. When Dobbs County was formed from lower Johnston by an act of the Provincial Assembly of 1758, that courthouse fell to the new county of Dobbs.

The court was then moved to Hinton's Quarter, just east of Clayton, where the first court was held the last Tuesday in April 1759. When Wake County was formed by an act of 1770, effective in March 1771, the court was moved to the east side of Neuse River at Smithfield, where the first session was held May 28, 1771, in the house of Major John Smith, Jr. In August of that year, he sold the county an acre or so of land about where Riverside Warehouse now stands and a new courthouse was built on it.

At the March 1786 term, the court met with Samuel Smith, Needham Bryan and William Avera as justices. The first business was: "Ordered that the courthouse of this county be removed from the place it now stands to the center section of Second and Market streets in Smithfield, there to be well fixed on pillars of brick eight feet high, ranging with Second Street, that all necessary repairs be made in a workmanlike manner. That a Gaol (Gaol) be built on lots No. 53 & 54." In old records gaol, a temporary prison, is spelled both ways.

The gaol was to be 14 by 20 feet and was to be underlaid with stone two feet below the surface of the earth upon which a floor of square pieces nine inches thick was to be laid. The ground floor was to be for criminals, with a debtors' room over it. There were no specifications for a third floor, except that over the third floor a roof was to be made of a convenient size for a guard room.

The door in the criminal room was to be fixed at the corner of the front side; the door of the debtor's room at the south end under the door of the guard room. Two convenient windows were to be in the debtors' room, with one in the criminals' room right under the door of the debtors' room, each window to be secured with iron bars. The order also provided that a pillory and stocks be built on the property.

Needham Bryan, Hardy Bryan and William Ward were appointed commissioners to contract with and employ workmen to undertake and complete the work. The commissioners were also empowered to sell the present gaol for the best price they could get, the money to go "towards the discharge of part of the expense that shall accrue in the prosecution of the said business." (It might be interesting to know what the going rate for a second-hand "jail" was back in those days).

No mention was made of any agreement or relationship the county may have had with the town in connection with relocating the courthouse in the intersection of Second and Market streets, nor of building the gaol, pillory, and stocks on lots 53 and 54. They are the lots the county acquired in 1797, and on which the present courthouse stands. Since the town records were destroyed in the wee small hours of November 12, 1926, when the old City Hall-Opera House went up in flames, we perhaps will never know what the county and town officials may have had in mind nearly 200 years ago.

At the November 1787 term of the court, it was "Ordered that William Bridgers be allowed the sum of Eighteen Pounds for moving the courthouse and furnishing timber for the jail." So the Courthouse must have been moved to the center section of Second and Markets Streets in Smithfield. Those are the only streets in the original plan of the town that were 80 feet wide.

I have seen no specifications as to the size of the Courthouse that Smithfield was built around. The one at Hinton's Quarter was 20 by 30 feet. With the traffic as it must have been in the late 1780's and 1790's, there must not have been any traffic jams.

Also at the November 1787 term of the court, Hardy Bryan and William Ward, two of the commissioners appointed to employ workmen to build a jail and courthouse, came into court and reported that they had employed Capt. John Rochael to build the jail, "who was finished the same agreeable to his undertaking with them for the sum of One hundred and Seventy five pounds; the said Jail is therefore accepted for the use of the County and the said commissioners directed to procure whatever else may be necessary towards rendering the jail more compleat at the expense of the County."

Arthur Bryan, then the sheriff of the county, also came into court and protested against "the Sufficiency of the Jail of this County." The 1787 entries are the first so far found where the word "jail" is spelled out.

HISTORICAL SKETCH OF JOHNSTON COUNTY

Eastern North Carolina attracted white men for permanent settlement in the middle and late years of the 17th century, but there was scarcely any settlement along the upper Neuse River, in the vicinity of what is now Johnston County, until after Indians suffered decisive defeat at the hands of the English in the Neuse Valley and along the coast in the second decade of the 18th century.

The original Johnston County was formed in 1746 from the northwestern part of Craven County. Named for Gabriel Johnston, royal Governor of North Carolina from 1734 to 1752, the newly created county extended from the area around present-day Kinston to the Northern Piedmont, approximately where Reidsville is situated. Some old writers insisted that Johnston County's original territory extended "to the mountains and beyond."

FIVE COURTHOUSE LOCATIONS

Johnston County has had four courthouse locations. The original courthouse was at Walnut Creek (near Kinston). When the lower part of the county was cut off in 1758 to form Dobbs County, an act of the General Assembly placed the Johnston County courthouse at Hinton's Quarter, south of the Neuse River a mile or so east of the present town of Clayton, on what has been known as the Round House Farm. When Wake County was formed from western Johnston in 1770, the courthouse was moved by legislative action to "Captain John Smith's on the north side of the Neuse". An act of the Legislature in 1777 established the Town of Smithfield on the Smith lands (really on the east bank of the river, which turns southward past Smithfield). The riverside courthouse at Smithfield, actually built in 1771, served as the seat of county government until a building was erected on the present Johnston County courthouse site, which was purchased in 1797.

SMITHFIELD'S IMPORTANCE

Smithfield, county seat of Johnston, because a place of importance immediately after its incorporation. From 1777 to 1794, the legislature met in seven towns, official records being hauled from place to place in a cart. It met in Smithfield May 3-5, 1779, as the lawmakers abandoned New Bern, where a smallpox epidemic raged.

At the session in Smithfield, the Legislature created a commission to view proposed sites for a North Carolina permanent "seat of government". Smithfield itself was a contender for the honor of becoming the state capital in 1779, 1784 and 1788. In 1782, the Legislature selected Hillsborough, but the action was rescinded the following year when Fayetteville partisans strongly objected. In 1784, Smithfield had support on three ballots, polling 18, 13 and 17 votes of a total of 141 cast. Tarboro, Hillsborough and New Bern were stronger contenders than Smithfield, but no town received majority support.

The legislature refereed the problem of establishing our state capital to the Constitutional Convention of 1788. Smithfield was among seven sites nominated. On the second ballot, the convention agreed on a selection--"a place within ten miles of Mr. Isaac Hunter's in Wake County," a tavern in the vicinity of present-day Raleigh. Again there was a bitter protest from Fayetteville, which gathered support from 119 members of the Legislature, less than a majority. The issue was not settled until 1792, when the commission of the Legislature purchased the Joel Lane plantation of 1,000 acres in the center of Wake County.

CENTER OF TOBACCO TRADE

Even before the Town of Smithfield received its charter from the Legislature, Smithfield was a center of tobacco trade. John Smith, Jr. and Joel Lane, Johnston County members of the Colonial Legislature, helped obtain legislation in 1770 "to establish a public inspection of tobacco in the County of Johnston". One year before the riverside courthouse was established at Smithfield, tobacco was inspected, put in hogheads, loaded on flat boats at Smithfield, and sent down the Neuse to New Bern, where the tobacco was sent by ocean vessels to England.

THE CIVIL WAR

The economic development of Johnston County and all the South was retarded by the Civil War. Public sentiment in Johnston County opposed secession from the Union on the eve of the war's outbreak. At a meeting of citizens in Smithfield on December 22, 1860, resolutions were adopted in opposition "to dissolving the Union...until our Northern friends expressed confidence in peaceful settlement of differences between the North and South by conservative patriots, but recognized the threat of "precipitate action" by "selfish, hot-headed, illadvised and crazy politicians". When hostilities started, Johnston County citizens joined other North Carolinians in supporting the Confederacy, and many sons of Johnston fought in Confederate ranks.

Johnston County soldiers not only went off to war. The war came to Johnston County. In March 1865, some three weeks before General Robert E. Lee's surrender at Appomattox, the bloodiest battle ever fought on North Carolina soil occurred at Bentonville, in the lower part of Johnston County, some 15 miles from Smithfield. Greatly outnumbered Confederate troops under General Joseph E. Johnston (not more than 15,000 men) sought to impede General W. T. Sherman's army of 60,000 veterans, marching northeastward from the south, headed toward Goldsboro. The Confederates were forced to withdraw after a three-day battle on March 19, 20 and 21.

Weeks later--in April--General Sherman and the Left Wing of his army, some 35,000 men, were in Smithfield, having moved up the Neuse River from Goldsboro with the intention of continuing on to Raleigh. While in Smithfield, General Sherman received news of General Lee's surrender. As the Union troops marched past the Johnston County courthouse, headed toward the state capital, there was tumultuous cheering as they celebrated Armistice Day 1865.

DEVELOPMENT OF TOWNS

In the first half of the 19th century, there were crossroads communities in Johnston County which became centers of trade and community life. But the towns other than Smithfield--Clayton, Selma, Wilson's Mills, Pine Level, Kenly, Princeton, Micro, Four Oaks and Benson--did not come into being until after 1850.

The establishment of these towns is related to the coming of the railroads. Stallings' Station, the forerunner of Clayton, had its origin in 1853, when the North Carolina Railroad was extended through Johnston County. Selma, founded along the North Carolina Railroad, traces its origin to 1867. Wilson's Mills, Pine Level and Princeton are other communities which developed along the same railroad. Kenly, Micro, Four Oaks and Benson owe their development to the construction of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad in the Eighteen Eighties. Selma, in that decade, took on increased importance as a railroad junction. The North Carolina Railroad, used by Southern Railway, intersected with the Atlantic Coast Line at Selma.

THE 20TH CENTURY

There was lumber industry in Johnston County in the 19th century, but the first sizable wave of industrial development did not reach Johnston County until the beginning of the 20th century, when textile mills were established in several towns. Manufacturing, however, remained small in relation to Johnston County agriculture.

Tobacco farming received a boost in the county in 1898, when the Smithfield tobacco market was established. Tobacco production expanded until Johnston County, well into the 19th century, had become one of the top three counties in the United States in tobacco production.

Cotton was a major crop until its decline was precipitated in the Nineteen Sixties. In the Nineteen Twenties, Johnston competed with Cleveland and Robeson Counties for the honor of being "the banner cotton county in North Carolina".

Throughout the 20th century, the development of the Agricultural Extension Service has resulted in increased emphasis upon "diversified farming". Livestock in modern times has become a major producer of farm revenue.

Since World War II, the mechanization of agriculture and the intensification of scientific farming have been accompanied by a sharp decline in the number of people employed in Johnston County agriculture. In a 14-year period, from 1953 to 1967, the county's farm population declined by approximately 14,000. The county has virtually maintained its total population at a constant level through a successful effort to develop new industry and through an expansion of business in towns of the county. The 1960 census showed a total county population of 62,936. Preliminary figures on the 1970 census show a population of around 60,500. The official 1970 census quoted a figure of 61,737.

Farming remains a major economic enterprise in Johnston County, and the county ranks near the top in North Carolina in the value of farm products. The total income from agriculture has soared well above the $50 million level annually in the late Nineteen Sixties. But, in these years, for the first time in history, the farm population of Johnston County dropped to less than 50 percent of the total number of inhabitants. Still, there were 26,000 people living on Johnston County farms at the beginning of 1967.

Since the middle Nineteen Fifties, a number of major new industries have been established in the county and previously established industries have expanded operations. Some 3,000 new jobs in manufacturing enterprises have been created. New industries include manufacture of television, radio and stereo sets; also manufacture of assorted instruments of electronics, electric blankets, garments for women and children, and school furniture. Textile operations have expanded.

Johnston County's destiny seems to be increased urbanization, although agriculture will continue to be a basic means of economic livelihood. The county's proximity to the RALEIGH-DURHAM-CHAPEL HILL area (The Research Triangle) seems likely to be a factor in the county's further industrial development. REVERSAL of the population decline is anticipated.

EDUCATIONAL HISTORY

There were privately owned academies in Johnston County in the 19th century and there were small rural schools which conducted classes several weeks of the year through public support, but there was little progress in public education in the county prior to 1900, just as there was little progress elsewhere in North Carolina before the "Aycock era".

Professor Hugh Lefler of the University of North Carolina has recorded in one of his accounts of the state's development that in 1872 the public schools of North Carolina enrolled only about one-fifth of the state's children for a few weeks. In 1900, only 58 percent of the children were enrolled, average attendance was only 37 percent, and the length of the "free school" term in North Carolina averaged only 70 days.

Privately owned academies prepared Johnston County students for college-the few students who pursued higher education. The Smithfield Academy was established in 1812. In a time when opposition to taxation for support of schools was almost universal, the Smithfield Academy, along with some other schools like it in the state, sought to raise money by lottery. Managers of the Smithfield Academy advertised a lottery in 1820, but there are no records to show whether it succeeded in raising funds for support of the institution. This school operated through most of the years of the 19th century. In 1828, it was directed by the Rev. J. Warnock, a graduate of Glasgow (Scotland) University. One of its advertisements slated: "The trustees feel confident in saying that the advantage of this academy will equal any in the state. The classical course will be adapted to that observed at Chapel Hill".

TURLINGTON INSTITUTE

In the late 19th century, privately owned academies operated in several Johnston County towns, providing "free school" several weeks of the year and extending their terms for students who paid tuition. The best known of these academies was Turlington Institute, founded in Smithfield by Ira T. Turlington in 1891. Mr. Turlington, son of a teacher who conducted various schools in rural Johnston County, had earlier been associated with an academy called Smithfield Collegiate Institute.

Turlington Institute was the immediate forerunner of Smithfield's public school system that developed in the 20th century. Turlington Institute was situated on the present site of Smithfield Junior High School. It flourished throughout the Eighteen Nineties, attracting students from a number of counties in Eastern North Carolina as its reputation for excellence spread. It was regarded as one of the "better college preparatory schools" in the state. Some of its students advanced beyond normal high school work and were rated higher than freshmen in some courses when they entered college.

FIRST WAVE OF CONSOLIDATION

Several towns in the county other than Smithfield developed separate public school systems under special charters. By the late Nineteen Twenties, all the towns had surrendered their charters and joined the County School System.

H. B. Marrow, who had come to Smithfield in 1917 to become superintendent of the Smithfield Schools, became county superintendent in 1922 and served in the position for 29 years.

The first wave of Johnston County school consolidation, under Mr. Marrow's leadership, reduced the number of schools from 135 to 24. There were 18 high schools and six feeder schools functioning in the Nineteen Thirties and through the Forties. Much of the construction of the new brick buildings was financed through a bond issue approved in the Nineteen Twenties.

POSTWAR IMPROVEMENTS

The period after World War II has been marked by great strides in the development of vocational education in the high schools and by a second wave of school consolidation. The broadening of the curriculum and the consolidation of high schools in the Nineteen Fifties and Sixties have been accomplished under the leadership of County Superintendent E. S. Simpson, who succeeded Mr. Marrow as head of the school system in 1951.

As 1968 arrived, the establishment of large and modern comprehensive high schools was well under way, and in 1969, fifteen high schools in the county were consolidated into 5 high schools. Today, there are still 5 high schools as well as 2 primary schools, 13 elementary schools and 3 junior high schools.

CASHIERS! TELLERS! CLERKS!

Do your employers furnish you with the latest edition of the City Directory?

You need it at your elbow at all times, to protect your company from forgers and bad-check artists. A few questions, checked against City Directory information, will trip them at once. Intelligent use of the City Directory for this purpose has saved thousands of dollars and helped make some cities "too sharp" for bad-check "operators."

Features and Departments of a City Directory

Your new, improved City Directory is the most complete and comprehensive catalog ever published of the inhabitants, business concerns and institutions of your city. It is much more than just an alphabetical list of names and addresses.

Your City Directory Contains:

- 1 An Alphabetical list of names and addresses of residents, business concerns and institutions, plus wife's name and if a widow the deceased husband's initial, and the occupations of all. Principal officers or owners and a description of businesses are included as well.
- 2 A Householders' Directory including a Street and Avenue Guide. This section lists every street and where intersecting streets appear. It lists numerically every location on each street, naming the householder or business at each number and whether the person is a homeowner or renter and if he has a telephone. Similar information is provided on office and public buildings and their occupants.
- 3 A Classified Business Directory—listing every business, classified as to type, and showing names and addresses. It also lists every profession, club, society and association, hospital and cemetery, labor organization, library, park and playground and school.
- 4 A "Yellow Section" or Buyers' Guide, where the advertiser may explain in greater detail the services or products he has to offer.
- 5 A Statistical and Historical Story of your city; plus miscellaneous other information.

NUMERICAL TELEPHONE DIRECTORY

The Telephone Numbers and names in this Directory were supplied to us during our regular door to door canvass.

This Directory is designed to assist you in providing additional information when only a telephone number is available.

BLUE PAGES

This Directory takes the "mystery" out of blind numbers. It lists telephone numbers in numerical sequence, making it easy to "decode" blind phone numbers in classified ads—especially valuable for real estate agencies, used car dealers, etc.

WHAT'S IN A PHONE NUMBER?

ABOUT THE FIRM:

Who called me? When your call back message gives a telephone number only—or includes a common surname such as Jones, Smith, Brown, etc.—this Numerical Telephone Directory will assist in determining correct firm name. Make use of both Alphabetical and Street Guide information to establish names of officers, owners or partners, products and services, and correct address. Properly identify firm and caller and have needed records, file or correspondence on hand before returning call.

ABOUT THE INDIVIDUAL:

Who called me? When only a telephone number is known, this Numerical Telephone Directory will assist in determining the name of the subscriber—with this information combined with other sections of your City Directory you may quickly establish such information as wife's name, place of employment, job title, home address, business address and telephone number.

Common Sense About City Directory Circulation

THE TRUE VALUE of advertising circulation is circulation consulted.

TO BE EXACT by actual survey in twenty-four average American cities by actual count each City Directory averaged three and one-half consultations for each business day.

TO BE CONSERVATIVE we will eliminate the sixty Sundays and Holidays when no tests were made.

FOR EVERY THOUSAND DIRECTORIES sold there will be an average of three and one-half consultations for each book for THREE HUNDRED and FIVE days, therefore $1000 \times 3\frac{1}{2} \times 305 = 1,067,500$.

Power of Advertising

THE CITY DIRECTORY is the power that generates information for the buyer that he may know who deals in the product he wishes to purchase. If your business is not classified properly, and a display advertisement arranged to describe your business, how can you expect the buyer to trade with you?

ADVERTISING is the foundation upon which successful businesses are built. You must apply this to your own particular business.

ADVERTISING is the power of an idea multiplied.
